Agent Engine: how every page looks

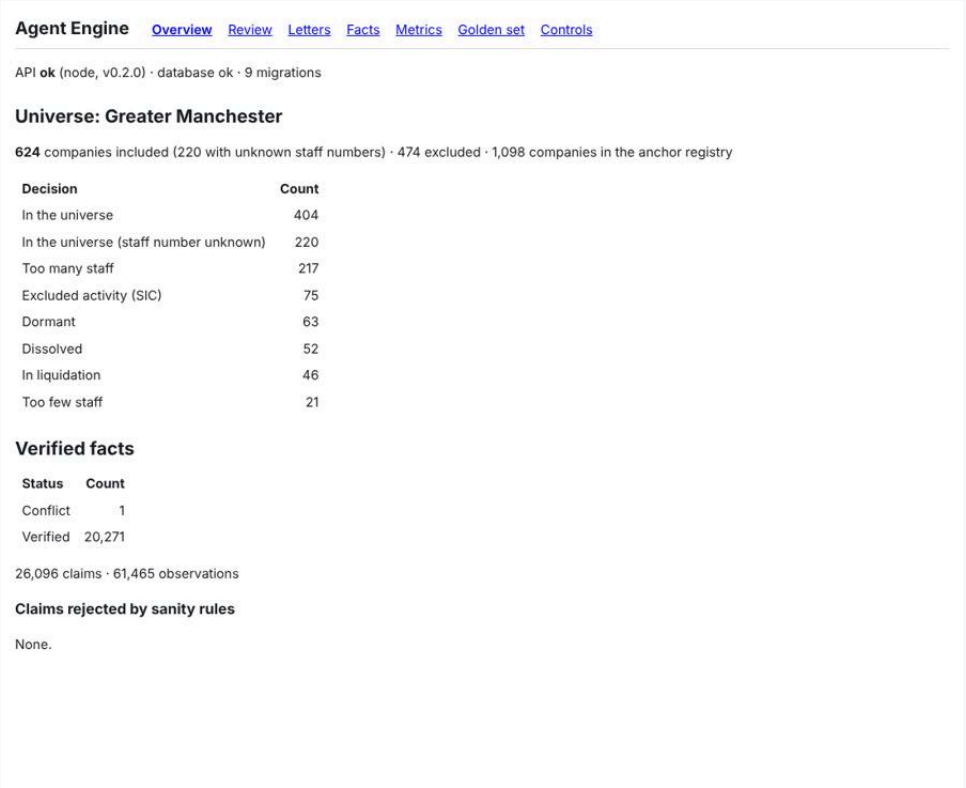

64 screenshots captured 2026-11-09 22:16 UTC with headless Chromium at 1440px (desktop) and 390px (phone). Data: a synthetic database seeded by running the Phase 2–5 gates (each builds the Phase 1 synthetic world first), with the global kill switch ON and no network calls. Light theme only: the dashboard and demo pages have no dark styles (the two dark-mode shots show this). Seeding note: in one shared database the Phase 2 gate's "12 drafts generated" check and Phase 3's drift check read as failed: in one shared database the Phase 2 gate counts other gates' tasks (and the contact cooldown rightly skips companies Phase 5 already contacted), and the drift source already has 3+ complete runs from earlier gates, so its "not judged yet" step can't be shown. Both pass in the separate gate runs (docs/gates/). Every other criterion passed. Issues noticed while capturing: `ui-issues.md`.

Letters

Known bias: Registered offices are often an accountant's or formation agent's address, so a letter may not reach the directors. Flagged letters say why.

Don't print yet: EJTECH's company number and registered office are still placeholders in the settings, and every letter prints them in its footer.

5 duplicates blocked (one contact per company every 90 days, across email and letters):

Dear Directors,

SYNTHETIC TRADING 132 has been trading since 2015. Businesses at that stage often find a clear, up-to-date website brings in better enquiries. I help Manchester businesses with fast, modern websites that bring in enquiries, so I've made a free demo homepage to show what's possible. If you like it, I'd be glad to talk it through.

Best wishes,

Archie, EJTECH Ltd
